

New Year's Eve Dance Tickets On Sale Next Monday

Westernaires Band to Play, Queen Also to be Crowned

The entire McGill Union Building will be open for the Arts and Science New Year's Eve dance to be held on the eve of December 31, from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m., it was announced last night. The New Year's Eve dance, one of the most largely attended social events of the year, will also see the crowning of a co-ed Queen. Tickets for this event, at $4.50 a couple, will be available at the Tuck Shop next Monday.

As in the past, there will be an ample supply of horns, whistles, etc., to mark the passing from the old to the new, in addition to special decoration of the Ballroom for this festive occasion.

Niels Nielsen Manager
House Manager for the occasion will be Niels Nielsen, Second Year Artsman. The committee in charge of the dance is headed by Harry Miller. In charge of tickets will be Fay Rodriguez, while Joan O'Connell will attend to catering.

One of the highlights of the dance will be the crowning of a queen. Specifications are that she be a freshette, a good scholar, active in Arts and Science extracurricular activities, and . . . attractive. Prize will be an all-expenses-paid evening at one of Montreal's top night spots, for her and her escort.

Scouring the campus for potential candidates are members of a board of judges among whom is Barbara Hodgson, elected queen at last year's dance.

The event promises to be entertaining, judging by attendance at New Year's Eve dances in the past. The committee has announced that refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

Extensive plans are being made to decorate the Union. In addition to the Ballroom, the Reading Room and Grill Room, which will be open to all, will also be decorated. Tickets will start selling at the Tuck Shop Monday, but as in the past, ticket selling booths will probably be set up the following Monday. Students are advised to buy their tickets early, as it is expected they will be selling fast.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

Registration for women students graduating in 1949 began December 1st. Registration takes place between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

McGill Radio Workshop Sponsors Script Contest

By IRVING SIMMS

A radio script contest, which is open to all students of McGill University, is at present being conducted by the McGill Radio Workshop, in conjunction with the McGill Writers Club.

Additional Time

Some time ago when this contest was announced, it was stated in the Daily that all scripts would have to be handed in on the last day of lectures of the present term. It has been decided to extend this date to Jan. 12, 1949. This additional time will allow those students who have already prepared their scripts to revise their work and produce a better result. It is also felt that the holiday period will enable more students to enter the contest, who may have refrained from doing so due to lack of time.

Subject Matter

There is no restriction as to choice of subject matter for this script, but applicants should keep in mind that material submitted must be suitable to presentation over the air. Drama, satire, comedy, crime, etc., may be used as a theme in the script.

Students will be well advised to limit the number of characters also the number and types of sound effects required, because both of name for himself in future radio activities.

Open Meeting Of Literary Journal Held

The editorial board of The Forge took an unprecedented step Monday. An open meeting of the board was held to invite constructive criticism from students.

The meeting opened with a report on activities to date. The size of the magazine, it was announced, has been cut to that prior to 1948. As the Forge is a self-sufficient magazine financed by private subscription and solicited advertising, this was done to reduce printing costs and bring space within the range of the small business. Publicity has been employed to overcome any reluctance amongst students as subscribers and, even more important, as potential contributors.

Jack Lieber suggested that The Forge should have a "point of view." It was stated that the policy of the magazine was to accept any creative writing of interest to the reading public and of definite literary merit; beyond that it would defeat its purpose to present a "point of view." It was decided to distribute mimeographed letters to all students.

Career Corner Is Inaugurated By Library

Designed to give students an idea of the scope of available employment opportunities, qualifications and salaries, a "Career Corner" was inaugurated in the Redpath Library this fall.

About 20 books dealing with both general and specialized vocations are already lining the shelves of the corner. Additional books are on order which will increase the range of books to suit all interests.

Promoted by the McGill Placement Service, the "Career Corner" is proving a valuable asset to many students who have consulted some

CHORUS LINE CUTIES

mission. Always a feature of this traditional athletic festival, the girls have been rehearsing daily for over two weeks and will perform in unusual new costumes.

Athletics' Night Features Special Football Movies

A novel feature will be introduced at Athletics Night I to be presented this Saturday evening in the Currie Gym in the form of some special football movies, it was announced yesterday by the Executive Committee.

Secured with the special assistance of McGill Football Coach and Athletics Director Vic Obeck, who will himself act as narrator and commentator during their showing, the films will be displayed in the B.W. and F. room during the athletic festival.

Featured will be movies made in London, Ont. showing all plays in the McGill-Western game played there a month ago. Along with Coach Obeck's comments, this is expected to provide an interesting flash-back on this year's football season, especially since so few McGill students actually saw this contest.

Following this, a special "movie" made at Columbia University in Technicolor by Lou Little titled "Techniques of Football" with demonstrations by some of that school's best players will be shown. Lou Little, known to all ball fans as one of the great deans of American football, was the great coach under whom our own Vic Obeck served as an assistant.

This experiment is somewhat of a departure from the usual Athletics Night program, but it is hoped that it will meet with the enthusiastic reception given McGill Athletic Nights in the past.

Also to be presented in the B.W. and F. room will be a demonstration of Judo between members of the Montreal Police Force and such experienced McGill men as Roger Hutchins and Tom Patten. Following the athletic events in this downstairs gym, there will be dancing until mid-night to Jack Beauregard orchestra.

All Athletics Night ticket sellers are reminded that they must wear McGill blazers while on duty. If they do not own a blazer of their own they can be borrowed in R.V.C. or obtained through Mary Skelton there. If ticket sellers who agreed to work between certain hours find they are unable to do so, they should obtain a substitute.

Engineering Institute Held Dance at Ritz

McGill was represented by more than 50 engineering students at the 4th annual dance sponsored by the Junior Section of the Engineering Institute which was held Friday, 3 Dec. in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

Music for continuous dancing was provided by two orchestras, and engineers of every kind could be seen successfully navigating on the floor without the apparent aid of slide rules or log tables.

Montreal's junior engineers were present in force, and with the continuous expansion of the membership it is expected that future dances will be held where the accommodation is greater. This year over-crowding was only prevented by limitation of ticket sales and the use of two orchestras for dancing.

Your Roving Reporter ON What's Important Here?

This week my question is directed at the student body as a whole. It is "What do you consider to be the most important thing here at McGill?"

The first person interviewed was Keith Drummond, Arts I, who by the way marked '48 with the highest marks in the province. He said, "Frankly I think that the most important thing is academic work. You can't stay in college and partake in extra-curricular activities unless you pass your exams. I believe students are here to increase their capacity to think and reason, and to broaden their education academically and theoretically. However, second and very close, is the importance of extra-curricular activity. These supplement studies and give practical experience."

The next person interviewed was a young lady, Eileen Paul, B.A. 4, who said, "As a matter of fact I think that social contacts are most important or at least that is what most students get out of McGill. They should learn to mix with the people around them here at University so that they will get along better with people later on in life."

Spanish Club to Hold Meeting Tonight at 8

The Club Hispanico is to hold a general meeting tonight, Thursday, December 9th, at eight o'clock in the Union Grill Room.

The guest speaker will be Senora Eliana Lopez of Chile, who will talk on "Panorama de la America Latina". Senora Lopez is a graduate of the University of Chile, holding licentiate in Philosophy and Geography, and is at present an interpreter with ICAO in Montreal.

Following the speech, there will be "Charadas" and "Veinte Preguntas," the Spanish versions of Charades and Twenty Questions, after which there will be dancing and refreshments.

Staging "The Beautiful People"

RANDY PHILLIPS (in uniform) and CLARK NEWTON of the English department, who are stage manager, and assistant stage manager, respectively, in the department's production of William Saroyan's "THE BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE," which will be presented in Moyse Hall on Friday night, its only performance.

A general meeting of all members of the McGill Daily staff was held last night in the Daily office in the Union basement.

More than sixty of the staff were present at this session which is an annual meeting, when photographs were taken for inclusion in the annual, "Old McGill '48." Ross Simms, newly appointed assistant managing editor announced that plans were being completed for the Daily's Christmas party on Tuesday, December 22, in the Union Ballroom.

Assis't Registrar, Dr. Ross To Chair Science Gen. Nite

Students are in a better position to organize student-faculty co-operation than anyone else, Dr. Bruce Ross stated in an interview with a Daily-reporter yesterday.

Dr. Ross, who is assistant registrar of McGill University, will be chairman of the Science 'Gen Nite' to be held in the Union next Tuesday evening.

Educated at McGill, Dr. Ross received his B.Sc. in 1930 and his Ph.D. in 1933. During his undergraduate years, he was active in numerous extra-curricular activities. He was director of the Red and White Revue for two seasons. In 1945, he was appointed assistant registrar.

The speaker for the Science Gen Nite have been chosen from prominent Montreal business men. There will be speakers on Biochemistry, Chemistry, and either Physics or some branch of Engineering. As many students will be studying for examinations or leaving town, there will not be a professor's tea held the Saturday following the

Tomorrow, approximately 8,000-odd students of McGill University will go to the polls to indicate their choices regarding the 23 candidates up for election to the S. E. C. ## THE RÉAL EUROPE

Members of the Montreal United Church Presbytery have challenged statements by William M. Birks, chairman of the Canadian United Allied Relief Organization that "relief is no longer necessary" in some European countries.

Mr. Birks has replied that his original statement on his return from Europe was correct, and that he was referring to such countries as Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg. Furthermore, he is quoted as saying in his reply to the churchmen that "There is much suffering in England and I am sure that everything that is sent to them will be very welcome." He reaffirms his original statement that "Greece is in very bad shape and relief on a national scale is very much needed, because there is a great deal of suffering there."

While Mr. Birks may have been correct in the statements he made on his return from Europe, there is no doubt that they caused an entirely false impression and some clarification was necessary. His reply to the churchmen is therefore welcome in that it clarifies the situation a little.

Unfortunately, in his reply to the churchmen, Mr. Birks adds this: "Of course there is poverty and suffering in every country, for we have the poor with us always in every country." We hope that the churchmen and everyone who has seen Europe will protest against this last statement. It does not account for the thousands of miserable wretches in Europe today who are in desperate need of enough food to keep them alive and enough clothes to keep them from freezing to death.

The condition of these thousands of needy people is a direct result of the war and has nothing whatsoever to do with the poor being always with us.

We challenge any Christian person to view "hell's orphans", as Europe's parentless children have been called, and then attempt to be unmoved by what they have seen.

A Canadian government official reported that the condition of D.P. camps in Europe was "good". Here again, a completely false impression was caused by insufficient clarification. The officials of the International Refugee Organization of the United Nations with whom we spoke in Germany did not consider the condition of the camps "good". Insofar as each of these D.P.'s is maintained at a daily cost equal to the price of a cup of coffee and a hamburger in Montreal, conditions are "good".

And while we found in Paris that anyone with enough money could wine and dine in a very elegant manner, we also found that French students, to mention only one class of people, did not find Paris quite as "gai" as touring Americans and Canadians.

When L. S. B. Shapiro, European correspondent of Maclean's Magazine, and North American Newspaper Alliance, visited the Daily recently, we asked him about conditions in Europe, with direct reference to our view that people who visit Europe often fail to see the true situation because their accommodations are comparatively luxurious. He replied that he agreed with this view, and mentioned the difficulty frequently encountered with visiting V.I.P.'s in various parts of Europe — the difficulty of getting them thoroughly to investigate the food, clothing, and housing of the average European. And he agreed that Europe still needs plenty of assistance.—C.K.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

APOLOGY

The Daily extends its apologies to Betty Sinclair, Joseph Porteous, and Allan Knight for the inconvenience caused them by the omission of their platforms from the earlier issues of The Daily.

Editor, The Daily:

Mr. Crepeau seems to have found it necessary to drag my name into the "statement" he "released" in order to attempt to justify his differences with Miss Penner.

As it is well known to Crepeau, and as I have repeatedly told him, I am not a member of the executive of the McGill LPP Club nor am I concerned with the sales of the Canadian Tribune; therefore any ideas or opinions that he might have on the above party or newspaper are of no particular interest to me. Even if Crepeau were to tell me his troubles in this matter thrice a day.

—J. GEORGE NEUSPIEL, B.A. III.

Editor, The Daily:

In view of the fact that Mr. Neuspel was anxious to show me his letter five hours before the Daily deadline, I think it is fair for me to say at this time that the only reason he was named in my statement is that I have always believed most sincerely that the fellow who calls the signals is just as important as the captain himself.

JACK CREPEAU.

Editor, The Daily:

Tomorrow the Dawson Students Executive Council will cease to exist. There will be no more movies at Dawson. Tomorrow the billiard tables will be covered and ping-pong tables put away. Tomorrow the snack bar and canteen will be closed. The Dawson Weekly has published its last issue. There will be no more Smokers, no more Gen Nites or stags. Tomorrow all campus clubs will turn in their equipment and will be disbanded. Tomorrow all the S.E.C. funds and equipment, amounting to about $4,000, will be distributed equally between the seven council members — as a Christmas Gift from the grateful Dawson students.

IF! Yes, if tomorrow comes, all this will come about and only about 86 students will object. Only 86 students, or less than 10 per cent of the student body care what the S.E.C. does. Only 86 students took the trouble to attend a Students Society meeting last Monday night. Only 86 students! Well, Merry Christmas council members and tough luck Dawson Student, you've lost 4,000 bucks IF TOMORROW COMES!

GEORGE N M CURRIE.

Editor, The Daily:

Congratulations Jack Crepeau! We are 100% behind you.

Student Forum

The moral challenge involved in the articles that have appeared in this column is too great to bring in personalities. It causes me great concern to think that Mr. Horn, instead of meeting it on an intellectual level has chosen to resort to such tactics. Is it an acknowledgement on his part that he has been hit?

If the man that dictates to a secretary and has his work typed is not the author of what he publishes, then I am not the author of last week's article, bearing my signature. I dictated it in the Union Grill Room the night of the Metron's Society meeting, revised it, and had it typed the following day in "the Shrine." How many saw me?

By accusing me of calculating "to discredit the efforts of the Hungarian Government to overcome these conditions (of misery and beggary)", he is doing me a great honor. I did not know that I possessed that power. Furthermore, since when does a "surface observation" pretend "to get at the root of . . . problems to day"? Thereupon there follows a lengthy diatribe to prove that there would be more beggars and more misery were it not for the efforts of the Hungarian people to rebuild their country. Who denies this? Mr. Horn must be touchy on the subject for he comes back to it twice. Is pity for the miserable wretches and indignation at the fact that for many of them their condition is the result of a deliberate policy of hatred on the part of their government to be interpreted as a wish to see plans of public welfare fail? Does it alter the fact that nowhere else in Europe did we see so much begging? Should not the tremendous amount of work to be done absorb some of the beggars? What about Social Services? Do I have to remind Mr. Horn that in Czechoslovakia, now another People's Democracy, there was not a single unemployed person even before the February events?

I had no intention to give you the history past or present of Hungary, nor a lesson in economic Geography. Anyone interested can learn as much as he wants on the subject by simply reading books or pamphlets published in many languages by the Hungarian Government and freely distributed. Mr. Horn is doing a good job of condensing them for readers.

Is it not a natural fact that a war-torn country will do all in its power to rise above its ruins and restore its economy? What did you see in Holland and Belgium? The Canadian servicemen knows what happened in Holland. This country, and Belgium, had, moreover, been "occupied" for four years, their nationals sent to slave labor camps. Is a Communist government responsible for Belgium being the Paradise of Europe today? Did Mr. Horn see any beggars in Holland? Was he impressed by the rows of beautiful workers' homes erected in those parts of the country, where in 1945 there was nothing but devastation?

When did I deny the existence of 19 Catholic newspapers in Hungary? Either my article was not read carefully, or it is being deliberately distorted. Unless of course the irony was too subtle. I bought a few copies of these papers, and had them translated. (They are smaller than the McGill Daily.) I have a couple with me. I should be very happy to lend them to anyone wishing to see them. Any fair judge will see the preponderance of religious material. So Mr. Horn comes down to earth and gives us the source of his information! He tells us that it was Miss Audrey Tobias who spoke to

Torres Excellent In Second Recital

Jose Torres presented a much better recital at His Majesty's Theatre on Sunday night than might have been expected from his previous appearance here last month.

There was a greater variety of interpretations and Mr. Torres' creative abilities as a character dancer were more evident. A Basque folk dance, a delicate pavane, and a stately court minuet, the final despairing movements of a departing Moorish ruler, the sparkling humorous dance of a Malagan fish-vendor, a bolero classique, and three Scottish numbers danced to the Ecossaises de Chopin — such is the wide range of his interpretations.

Mr. Torres has very successfully combined ballet training with Spanish folk dancing. There is a precision and control in his every movement that could only have come from extensive ballet training — and control is certainly the outstanding characteristic of his dancing. In the slower steps of the Pavane or the Don Juan minuet the exactness with which he executed every step elevated these dances to genuine evocations of another era. In his turns he is completely at ease and completely precise; he performs them without undue preparation and with a seemingly effortless grace. That Mr. Torres has a very fine command of ballet and character technique became increasingly evident as the recital progressed.

But we would deplore the use made of this finished command of the medium. It is indeed unfortunate that the very fine talents of Mr. Torres should have to be shown in such a disorganized form of concert. A one man show is always a theatrical challenge, and one that is particularly so to a dancer. Supported only by a pianist, and dancing against a bare black backdrop, Mr. Torres made, in all, eighteen appearances. Thus the evening was a sort of potpourri of quick character numbers and short selections played by the pianist, M. de Quiros, not to mention the encores and changes in the program that leave the audience in a confused state.

It is all the more to Mr. Torres' credit, therefore, that in each of these brief appearances, he made a vivid and exciting character suddenly alive. Specially noteworthy was the Danse Basque done in the traditional style, a series of intricate steps performed around a wine goblet; he did this with exceptional grace and lightness. There was no trace of personal flavor; it was a highly traditional ritual done with careful adherence to tradition. Another strong characterization was that of the Moorish monarch glimpsing his lost city from a hill-top. Here was displayed a finely

Flagstad Recital

Those who left Plateau Hall on Friday evening, at the conclusion of Kirsten Flagstad's recital, without swollen hands and hoarse voices, were few and far between. The great Norwegian soprano received a reception that tended more towards mass hysteria than anything else, and deservedly too. Her recital was a thrilling experience. If Flagstad is not the greatest singer in the world today, then her better has yet to be discovered.

Mme. Flagstad was presented through the joint-co-operation of La Societe Classique and the undergraduates Society of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences of McGill. Hers was the first, in a series of five recitals.

Over-anticipation is a mental attitude that usually results in disillusionment. Your reviewer admits his state of mind had attained pretty lofty heights, and during the past several years, the name Flagstad had become more of a myth than the name of a human being. But no customary disillusionment was in store. Mme. Flagstad lived up to and out-did all expectations.

The volume of the Flagstad voice is naturally its most striking feature. It is so resonant, and so powerful, that the walls about her seemed to tremble. But unlike the heavy dramas of Wagner, of which Flagstad is the greatest exponent, a recital gave the artist an opportunity to demonstrate her vocal technique much more precisely. She proved herself capable of singing a simple lullaby, softly, filled with warmth and true human emotion. An instant later, her figure had become transformed into that of a dynamic Wagnerian heroine, everything about her had changed. She is every bit the actress as she is the singer. She has amazing expressive features, which seem to assume whatever character she so desires, without the benefit of make-up or costume.

GORDON MANLEY

Plays Tonite

Mr. Manley, youthful Canadian-born pianist, has already performed from coast to coast, from his native Vancouver across the country to Halifax, with remarkable success. Without the halo of publicity, his enthusiastic audiences were so delighted with his outstanding individual technique that Manley won lasting acclaim, ever since his debut, several years ago, from the public and critics alike. Montreal knows him quite well by now, considering him to be an artist whose comprehension of the works he performs is already that of a master.

For his recital at Plateau Hall, tonight at 8:30, Gordon Manley has chosen only pieces written especially for the piano. His perfectly-balanced programme will be most interesting for its wide range in demonstrating the varied styles of piano writing. It will also give Manley the opportunity to reveal his profound musical insight, and all the resources of his accomplished technique. After a recent recital in New York's Town Hall, Robert Bagar, critic of the New York World-Telegram, commented, "one would revel in the expansive, grandiose and enkindling exposition of the music."

Among the works of Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, and Debussy, a highlight on the programme will be the first performance in Canada of the Suite for piano by the foremost British composer of today, Benjamin Britten, entitled, "Holiday Diary".

Where, then, should we seek the answer? A rapid perusal of the play itself reveals the author's love for humanity. The characters evolve in a setting of cosmic naivety, mirth and happy-go-lucky behaviour; but clearly and simultaneously, wonderment of human nature and scorn for vile and shallow living always emanate from this propensity for frivolous actions. At a time when the universe revels in hate, distrust and even murder, such beautiful sentiments as are evoked in "The Beautiful People" give an impression of godsend. The beauty of the play is greatly enhanced by the

McGill Inters Are Dropped By Georgians

by ERIC HELFIELD

Coach Ron Rutherford's Redmen suffered their initial setback of the season, by dropping a bitterly fought and closely contested struggle to the Georgians by the score of 44-41 last night in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

By virtue of their win, the Georgians moved into undisputed possession of first place, and at the same time, relegated the Redmen, one rung below.

McGill Strong
McGill displayed a superior brand of ball, and nearly created the first major upset of the campaign, in the game which saw the lead continually change hands until the dying minutes.

With the clock showing two minutes of play remaining, the Maroon and Gold quintet struck swiftly for two consecutive baskets by Korchuk to clinch the verdict. The Georgian attack was led by Bannerman and Korchuk, who netted ten points apiece. The former played a terrific two-way game, and well earned the plaudits of the crowd.

The Redmen uncovered a new scoring threat in Bembridge, who finally overcame his early season jinx, to pace the club with 11

Red and Blue Lose To Superior M.M. Squad in MBL Play

By JACK ABRAMS

Last night in Currie Gym, the Dawson Senior M.B.L. squad was defeated by Miss Montreal 44-33.

In losing the contest the Dawsonites displayed none of the class and shot accuracy of their former games as Miss Montreal outplayed outshot and outran the Red and Blue almost throughout the entire melee.

The first half started slowly with both teams playing an inferior brand of ball. During the first part of the half the scoring was very slow and the sloppy passing looked very bad for both sides. About the middle of the period the action seemed to pick up a bit and the floorplay improved somewhat as the quintets seemed to get over their earlier nervousness. Although the Dawson defence looked good in this period, they lacked the necessary tight to get the rebounds and loose balls. Miss Montreal came down from the boards with well over half of them. The half ended with the score tied up at 14-14.

Second Half
At the beginning of the second period Bill Naves' crew came out on the floor with some of the fight and spirit that half-time conjecture said they would and this was enough to put them ahead in the opening minutes of the game. The high hopes of the St. John fans was somewhat dulled, however, by a quick scoring spree by the Miss Montreal aggregation that put them ahead by the count of 21-18. Edwards and Milburn came through for Dawson at this point with a couple of quick hoops to put the Red and Blue in the lead by 22-21. A foul shot tied it up and Dudley, who starred throughout the contest for the M.M. quintet, went on a scoring binge of his own to send his team into the lead by 28-23.

At this time Dawson really came apart at the seams and allowed the Miss Montreals to spurt ahead to 30-25. Louis Milburn staged a one man come back and put the Dynamos back in the game by sinking three foul shots and holding the defensive together as Naves' boys closed it up to a 33-29 lead for Miss Montreal. Miss Montreal showed signs of wear as Shea sank two foul shots and the Dawsonites shut the gap 33-32 for Miss Montreal. What fight and ability that was left in the Red and Blue squad vanished completely with about five minutes to go and the Miss Montreal aggregation took advantage of it to completely overwhelm them with a barrage of sets and layups that left the Dawson team smothered in a 44-33 score as the game ended.

Redmen Eye Inters for Puck Squad

Hoping to inject a little more scoring punch into the sagging McGill attack, Redmentor Dave Campbell is considering reaching down into intermediate ranks for something in the way of a forward.

Reports have it that Rocky Robillard, known to McGill fandom as quarterback of the unsuccessful football Redmen, may be brought up to the senior sextet for tomorrow night's joust with Toronto's Varsity Blues. Rocky has been perfecting his finesse around the cage and a few goals propelled from his stick would aid the team considerably in their attempt to beat a tough Toronto squad tomorrow on the Forum freeze.

Ross Parsons, the brilliant rookie winger, is the only Red bothered by an injury. Parsons suffered a leg injury during practice this week, but it is probable that he will dress for Friday's game. Johnny Brough will also don the Red and White should Campbell decide not to use Robillard.

Varsity sharpshooters will find the McGill nets well fortified when they try to fire the rubber by Jack Gelleneau. Heron, Gosse, Lin, May and Hennessy will do the honours on the blue-line as protectors of the cage.

On the forward line Campbell will employ the Sanderson-Sinclair-Hale trio as the number one attacking unit. The Hackett-Henry-Parsons threesome will, in all probability, form the second line, with Jimmy Atkinson a sure-fire starter on the other front-line trio.

Intramural Champion. Ties will be decided by a shoot-off.

The course of fire is to be two (2) Match targets at twenty yards. The range will be available for practise on Thurs., Dec. 9 and Tues., Dec. 14, from 5-9 p.m. Faculty entries should be turned in to the range officer.

Redmen Seek First Victory in Contest With Ottawa U Club

Coach Howie Ryan's Redmen will make their fifth attempt to enter the win column this Saturday when they tackle playing-coach 'Gates' Valois' Ottawa U squad. The contest is part of the Athletics Night program.

Valois is reputed to have a strong squad, although with the exception of a couple of exhibition games with the House of David crew it has yet to be put to test. At present they are not entered in any league but rumors have it that an Eastern Intermediate CIAU league may be formed.

This loop will probably include, besides Ottawa U, Carleton College, Queen's intermediates, R.M.C. and Sir George Williams College of Montreal.

In addition the Capital City crew will play Queen's University senior and several American squads. Fans may be able to get an idea of the Redmen's chances for taking the senior intercollegiate crown by comparing the Ottawa U-Queen's contest with McGill-Ottawa U. tilt tomorrow night.

This is 'Gates' Valois' first year in coaching ranks. He was captain of the Ottawa team last year and won the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy as the most valuable player to his team.

The veteran of the squad is Mark Rochon, a 5 ft. 10 in. forward. This is his fourth year with the team. Rochon is also well-known for his football prowess. It will be remembered that he has given the Redmen several good scares in pre-season football tilts with the Ottawa squad.

Of the other eight men on the squad three are veterans and five are first year men. Of the former Hee Lacasse is the most important. He was chosen along with Valois to represent the team in balloting for the Russel Memorial Trophy and has gained considerable local fame for his bulldog antics on the floor and his colorful play.

The other veterans are Dick, Parisien a 6'1 centre and Slim Williamson a 6'3 guard. First year men include Ray Mulcahy, Jack Brennan, Gill Jolicoeur, Don Reaume and Armand Bonneau. The latter is the midjet of the squad, standing 5'7.

HOOK SHOTS AND RIGHT CROSSES

available in helping them choose a vocation.

Beautiful People—P. 2

fact that it is written in exquisite English.

Whether or not tomorrow night's players will interpret the play in all its splendour and to its last nuance is a debatable question. Having attended a few rehearsals, we do not hesitate to affirm that if they do miss their goal they'll be mighty close to it. And if they do not, another step will have been accomplished in the way of creating a truly Canadian Theatre.

Professor Hall (MA. 9181, Arts Building, local 230), it seems, still has a few tickets on hand. Here is your chance to ascertain whether or not the play is everything it professes to be.—R.G.

Flagstad Recital—P. 2

Now, a critic is expected to criticize. Your reviewer's sole criticism is that a lone pianist cannot accompany Flagstad, and do either himself or the singer any justice. The accompanist, whose name was omitted from the program, (perhaps fortunately) was undaunted in his attempts to get all he could out of the piano; but then he reached the climax had been reached and the keys could stand no more, Mme. Flagstad just kept soaring on to greater and dizzier heights. She dominated the symphony a few nights previously, so it is not hard to imagine how insignificant the poor pianist was.

The programme chosen for the occasion, began with a bang. Flagstad threw herself into "Elsa's Dream" from Lohengrin with some of the usual "warming up" pieces. She followed this with a fiery aria from "Die Walkure," and two Schumann compositions, "Der Himmel hat Ein Traume Geweiht" and "Liebeslied." The second part of the programme was devoted to songs by Wolf and Richard Strauss.

with an encore by Strauss thrown in for dessert. A group of Grieg's songs, sung in her native Norwegian, followed, and the programme closed with a group of English compositions. "When I Have Sung My Song" and "Tis Morning" by Weaks were rendered as encores. Everyone hoped Mme. Flagstad had another Wagnerian aria up her sleeve to close the programme with, but it was obvious that a full orchestra was necessary to support her, and her fans gave up after bringing her out for seven bows.—H.T.

means that they are kept from seeking office in later life, and we are thus saved the presence of these in the later, more important political front.

Rosalind Cohen, a fourth year Arts student, replied, "Actually studies are very important. Yet I am convinced that even more important than these is the fact that students should learn to think. Many of the extra-curricular activities help prepare the student for his later responsibilities to the community. Of course it is also important to meet lots of people—male and female. To sum it all up I think that the prime purpose of McGill or at any other university for that matter, is to mature the individual and to teach him to know and understand people."

The last interview was Bob Wallace, B.A. 4. His comment was, "I think that the most important thing is training education, and broadening of mind and personality through the mediums of athletics, social contacts, and studies."

In founding a new home in Iceland, in the 8th to the 10th century, the Norseman immigrant flung the pillar of his hearth into the sea and established his home wherever it washed up.

Other ordinary Hungarians find it the panel of judges.

Cardinal Mindszenty's secretary. It is doubtful whether any one of us will have a chance of doing that again; he was arrested last month. The Cardinal's palace was searched, all copies of a circular letter that he was addressing to his flock seized and destroyed. It seems that he was telling his people that he approved of their writing protests against him to the government, if it was a question of their daily bread.

Freedom of Movement

The comparison between the Cardinal and the Red Dean is most unfortunate. When did the British Government as such make any difficulties in granting an exit visa to the Red Dean, and for that matter to any of its nationals? The readers may remember the Cardinal's difficulties in that respect last year when a special invitation to the Marian Congress in Ottawa had been extended to him. And that was a PEACE CONGRESS, this type of script should be prepared, are advised to consult the Redpath Library. At present three months and for travel to a few privileged countries. That compares rather unfavorably with the conditions existing in our country where a passport allows for travel to all countries (including Russia) for five years and where the only restriction is on the amount of money one can take out.

To be continued tomorrow.

Talent Sought

In view of the fact that more and more McGill Radio Workshop is being approached by the local radio stations, who are continually searching for new talent in script writing and radio dramatics, it is believed that this contest will create a wide interest on the campus.

Chemical Engineers Club Sponsors Many Activities

Many students are unfamiliar with some organization on the campus because their formation and growth have been largely due to the bonds of common interest among students following a particular course of studies.

One such organization is The McGill Student Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers which was started at McGill by Chemical Engineering students in 1935.

The Student Chapter is one of many branches of the large parent organization whose objects are the advancement of chemical engineering in theory and practice and the maintenance of a high professional standard among its members.

Since its inception, the aim of the local branch has been to sponsor activities to give the members a wider knowledge of their chosen profession.

Tours of chemical industries, a main part of the club's program, have always been of great interest. Lectures by the students on the work on which they were actively engaged during the summer months are also given under the sponsorship of the A.I.Ch.E. Prominent men in industry are also often invited to speak to the members on their work.

In the past the A.I.Ch.E. has been active in showing industrial films to the student body. However, such a program is now being successfully carried out by the newly-organized E.U.S. Film Committee. Students of 3rd and 4th year Chemical Engineering have shown an active interest this year in the activities of the Chapter and over 95% are enrolled as active members.

The club recently had a banquet at the Union at which Archdeacon Gower-Rees was the Guest Speaker. Trips have been made this year to several local breweries, by popular request, to the Canadian Industries plant at Beloeil, and to Cortaulds and Howard Smith mills in Cornwall. Others are planned for the coming months.

Every year the American Institute of Chemical Engineers presents to the student member obtaining the highest standing in 1st & 2nd year (combined) of Chemical Engineering a pin and suitably inscribed award. It also holds an annual problem contest, open to members of all student chapters. The winner of this contest gains considerable recognition throughout the chemical industry and invariably has many offers for his services on graduation. Student members may also subscribe at special rates to "Chemical Engineering Progress," a technical publication of the Institute.

Floor Hockey Enters Into Finals at Dawson

The highly touted Moyse Boys were upset by the Nite-Cappers 7-3 last night, thus completing half of the Dawson floor hockey finals.

The first game on Monday night showed the Stallions badly trounced by the Nitecappers 13-0. The outstanding players for the Nitecappers were Wheeler and Urghart.

Again on Tuesday night there was a resounding crash when the Moyse Boys vanquished the Stallions 6-5 in an overtime period. Szabo, Ross, Lang, and Quinte were outstanding. Goalers Al Ferguson of the Moyse Boys and Frank Kelly for the Stallions guarded their nets with great ability.

Last night the third game of the six game series the Nitecappers defeated the Moyse Boys. The three

Red Squash Squad Busy Over Weekend

One of the features of Athletics Night 1 on Saturday will be a squash tournament. The McGill squashmen will be opposed by the players of William's College from Williamstown, Mass.

WILLIAMSTOWN MEN

George Wright, captain of last year's team, will probably play the first match. This will be the second year that he has played in the No. 1 position. Wright was the college champ last year. Richmond Allen who played in the No. 1 slot on the undefeated freshman team last year against Yale and Harvard will play second. He was the runner up for the title of college champ last year.

The rest of the players will probably play in the order that they are mentioned. Will Mikell is in his third year on the varsity. Jerry Dresser who played on the varsity part of the time last year has shown a decided improvement. Tom Randall, a letter man last year is playing near the top of the ladder.

Frank Donnelly plays next. He is the captain of this year's team. George Kneass was a letterman last year. Andy Goodrich was also a letterman last year. Art Treman, No. 3 on last year's undefeated Freshman team is expected to play last.

Last week, McGill won half of the squash events at the M.I.T. Athletics day in Boston. Playing against Tech. men they won 6-1, but lost 7-0 to a strong Harvard team. The Red squashmen gained much valuable selection, as seen by the officials were Dettor, at the nets of the Nitecappers, McCormick, high scorer with three goals for the Nitecappers, and Szabo with two goals.

Next week, three remaining games will complete the finals.

Red Cagers Seek Initial Victory In Exhibition Tilt Against Ottawa

Redmen Seek Title in 'Polo Tilt at Kingston

This week-end coach Don Rose's highflying water-polo squad will journey to Kingston where they will play Queens in the Gaels home pool. The team has been undefeated so far in league play this season.

A win or even a tie for the Redmen will give them the Intercollegiate title, and a chance to challenge Hamilton for the Dominion Senior Water Polo Championship. In their last game the team defeated Toronto Varsity, the defending champions, by a score of 3-2 in a hard-fought and exciting game.

The team will consist of the same men who played against Toronto last week. The forwards will comprise of the high-scoring combination of Don Waller and Art Earle, as well as Hal Corrigan, Walt Tilden and Dorrance Taylor.

That half position will be played by Pete Cameron, captain of this year's squad. On defence there will be Elliot Young, Joe Dickstein and Bob Johnston. In goals the Redmen have one of the finest goal (Continued on Page 6.)

BY MARCEL BALTZAN

After two days the sun finally broke thru and dispelled the Great Fog last Sunday. Has Howie Ryan succeeded in dispelling the fog which also enveloped the basketball team last week-end? The answer to this and many other pertinent questions about the squad will be known about 10 p.m. Saturday after the Redmen have tangled with 'Gates' Valois Ottawa U. Club.

Ryan feels that even before the game he can answer yes. He has drilled the squad for a whole week on passing and shooting and feels that they have absorbed enough to bear out his optimism.

The Ottawa U. Crew has played three games this year, two with the touring House of David squad and one with Potsdam State Teacher's College. These games, however, give no indication of the strength of the Carabins since the Bearded Brethren are obviously out of their class and the State Teachers themselves are an unknown quantity.

The club is master-minded by 'Gates' Valois, a fourth year student, who plays forward as well. He captured the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy as most valuable player in his team.

Indian Quintet To See Action At Macdonald

Ron Rutherford's Intermediate Indians basketball five meets the undefeated Macdonald crew in their third C.I.A.U. contest of the season Saturday. So far the Redmen have compiled a record of one victory and one loss.

In the first game of the season they journeyed to Lennoxville to edge the Bishop's College crew. Last night they played superb basketball against the highly favored Sir George William's squad only to be beaten out in the last few minutes.

This tilt uncovered a couple of potential stars in the persons of Moe Bembridge and MacThomas. Both boys garnered eleven points in the tilt to give them the leadership among the Indian scorers.

In addition to these scoring stars Rutherford has several capable guards in Garfinkle, Shumatcher and Segal. Jack Kurtz, a tall center, has set up many scoring plays from his pivot position. Stewart, Baker, Brown and White round out the squad.

The Macdonald squad looms as a powerful threat to garner the league title. They have won all their exhibition games, and in their only official contest so far dropping the highly-touted University of Montreal Carabins. An idea of the Carabins strength may be obtained from the fact that they nearly were entered in the Montreal Basketball League.

Six teams play in this loop, known officially as the Intermediate Intercollegiate Basketball League. It was formed this year. The six clubs are Loyola, Sir George William's College, University of Montreal, Macdonald College, Bishop's College and Dawson College.

Dawson Intermediate Puck and Hoop Squads Active on Week-end

BASKETBALL

Dawson's Intermediate basketball team will head south of the border tonight to take on the State Teachers College Junior Varsity at Plattsburgh, N.Y., in search of their second victory of the season. In their last appearance, the Red and Blue C.I.A.U. entry dropped a four point heart-breaker to Guards.

The team's pass work and shooting has been showing continual improvement, both in their practice sessions and in their games. Jake Cook, who has been on the team roster since the beginning of the season, made his initial appearance in Monday's game, and despite the fact that a knee injury made it impossible for him to play for prolonged periods, shows great promise at guard.

YANKIES FAST

The Yankee team is reputed to play a fast, wideopen game, and should present a new style of play to the Dawson quintet. Although there are less than 200 men, and over 700 women. Plattsburgh State Teachers College is said to have a powerful squad in the Intermediate ranks. However, Dawson is not taking this news idly, as coach Armstrong has been putting the boys through their paces, stressing both passing and shooting to a high degree.

HOCKEY

Dawson's intermediate hockey squad will travel to Verdun Auditorium for the third time this season to play Georgians in an exhibition tilt today. As a result of an insufficient number of practices Coach Bill Ransom has been unable to cut his roster. Some forty men have been trying out for the team. Twenty-three of these have been selected to represent the Dynamos in this game.

COBY IN CHARGE

Coach Ransom will be unable to attend this fixture, but the squad will be left in the capable hands of Gordon Coby, of the Dawson athletic office. The Dynamo crew will meet stiff opposition in the Georgians. The latter have recently defeated the McGill intermediates in a hard fought game.

Thus far, only one goal has been seen at practices, Gaby Glazer, formerly of Strathcona Academy High School. However more goal-tenders are expected to turn out at the next session.

The line-up for today's tilt will include six forward units, two pairs of defencemen, and a goaler. One attacking trio consists of Beaudoin, Dormer, and Hunt. Another forward line, Mitchell, Mercile, and Macmillan have showed up well in practices. Zemel and Currie have been teamed together on the blue line.

Williamstown Opposes College Squash Crew

McGill's Squashmen, tackle William's College from Williamstown, Mass. on Athletics Night. This year the Redmen also see action against such squash-conscious American universities as Dartmouth, Yale and Harvard.

Number one man on the home team is Consolation singles champion at the T.C.S. Invitation Tourney, Ham Quain. Next on the Red roster is Al Kendall. The 1947-48 Junior Provincial Champion, Mike Measures holds down the third position. Ray Crepaut, Pete Haller and freshman Dick Pearson will follow in this order.

The opposing Williamstonians are lead by George Wright, who is in his second year in the lead-off slot. Allen Richmond, member of the last year's champion Freshman team, follows: William Mikell, Jeremy Dresser, and Randall Thomas play second, third and fourth, respectively.

Bailey's Blues Hit Town For Tussle with Redmen

By BOYD MCBOWAN

Affable Ace Bailey brings his Blue-Boys to town tonight for a Forum session with the Redmen. Bailey looks to have assembled another crack club out in the Queen City.

He seems to feel that his boys will be as formidable as last year's champs after a few more games have been played.

We hear that Ace has uncovered another fine rookie in Rich Howson, a lad who fired a pair of counters in the opener at Varsity Arena last Friday, or was it Saturday?

Art Therrien reports that his Carabins outplayed the Blues all the way, but the Flying Frenchmen were stopped at every turn by Paul Hutzulak, Toronto netminder.

The score of that one was 5-2 for Varsity. Johnny Fox another newcomer to the roster, gunned two to share honours with Howson. Bob Henry racked up the other counter.

Tonight the Redmen get their chance to move up. Dave Campbell has his boys ready and willing and they could go all the way this year.

He'll have Jack Gelineau manning the nets again. Gordie Gosselin, Heron, Hennessy and May provide him with adequate protection. Dave has switched around his line-up slightly, with Jimmy Atkinson going to centre between Cy Biegler and Johnny Brough on the Forum freeze tonight.

On the other lines McGill will send out—Sanderson - Sinclair - Hale and Hackett - Henry - Parsons. Jack "Pop" Millar will sit this one out, along with Bobby Payette, young Bob Russell and

Boston Strongboy

Although Dave Hackett is from the Hub, he doesn't like very easily. Hoping to have a Goodyear in hockey this winter, Boston Dave is as proficient on the gridiron and tennis courts, as on the hockey lanes.

Dynamos Five Seek Second Win in States

By JACK ABRAMS

Still licking their wounds as a result of Wednesday's defeat at the hands of Miss Montreal, the Dawson senior M.B.L. entry is preparing to leave tonight for Plattsburgh, N.Y., where they will feature in a double header against the Plattsburgh State Teachers College. Also playing in the twin bill will be the Dawson Int. C.I.A.U. vs. the Plattsburgh Junior Varsity.

When the Red and Blue aggregation journeys south tonight it will mark the second time this season that the Navians have played against an American team. Their first encounter was against the Rouse's Point team a week ago. The Dawsonites emerged victorious on the top of a 60-35 count.

Coach Bill Naves declined to make any statement concerning the trip to the States, but showed his determination by immediately putting his charges through their most grueling practice sessions of the year. All advance reports on the Plattsburgh team seem to indicate that they have a much stronger squad than did Rouse's Point and that Dawson will have to be at their best to come out in the winning column. In an effort to clean the slate, Nave's boys will attempt to beat the Americans as they lost to them by three points last year.

So far this year the St. Johns crew has shown up well in the scoring department by scoring a total of 235 points against their opponents while they only allowed 174 points to go through their own hoop. Dawson has a season shot average of 30 per cent for six games. Once again coach Naves hopes to try out his defence against a good team and under game pressure and tension.

Tonight's exhibition tilt will be the final preper for the Dawson quintet prior to their encounter with the Grenadier Guards on the Dawson home court on Monday night. At their last meeting the Red and Blue was edged out by Steve Armstrong's outfit by five points in a hotly contested game.

Two Orchestras on Hand For Athletics Night Dance

Dancing until midnight to the Westernaires and Jack Beauregard's Orchestra will commence immediately following the sports events at Athletics Night I, which gets under way at 8 p.m. in the Currie Gym tomorrow evening.

The feature sports attraction of the night is to be a basketball tilt between coach Howie Ryan's Redmen and invading hopefuls from Ottawa University in the large gym. Special stands will be placed there and in the small gym adjoining, where spectators will watch McGill pugilists exchange blows with a hand-picked squad of A.A.U. specialists.

Running simultaneously, in the squash courts will be an exhibition bout between Red racket men and a group of letter-men from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., who make up their varsity team.

JUDO EXHIBITION

Downstairs in the B.W. and F. room, fans are to view Judo exhibition as McGill grapples with a crew of black belt men from the Montreal Police Force. Immediately following this, a novel feature will be introduced in the form of some special football movies secured with the assistance of McGill football coach and Athletics Director Vic Obeck.

Coach Obeck will be on hand himself during the showing of the films in the B.W. and F. room to act as narrator and commentator. He has been able to procure a sound film made in technicolor by Columbia University's famed coach and Dean of American football, Lou Little, and starring some of that school's best players in a demonstration of rugby techniques. A showing of the movies made during the McGill-Western game in London, Ont., will round out the program.

At half time in the basketball game and possibly again later in the evening, the famed McGill Athletics Night chorus line will perform. The girls, this year making up a precision line numbering twenty-five, have been rehearsing daily for over two weeks. They will be seen tomorrow night in a brand new routine featuring novel and unusual costumes.

When you finally do get down to reading this, we would like to remind you that these girls are part of the chorus performing at the Athletics Night.

McGill Pugilists Make Debut in Tussle with A.A.U. Aggregation

By ART BRONSTEIN

McGill's boxers make their official debut tomorrow night when they meet the best A.A.U. can offer in the first Athletics Night of the current pugilistic season. Invitations had been extended to Queens, Toronto, St. Francois-Xavier, and U.N.B., but all declined the opportunity due to the fact that their fledglings had not received sufficient training for such an event. The card will comprise seven bouts and the donnybros will start at 8:15 in the Small Gym.

The stellar presentation will be a bout between Mill Orr, 147 lb. intercollegiate champ the past two years and present coach of the fighting Redmen. His worthy opponent, Frank Bolla, will represent the Grenadier Guards.

Heney Meets Miller

John Heney, another of McGill's intercollegiate champions, having held that title for two successive years, provides the semi-feature attraction and will weigh in at 137 lbs. He will be opposed by George Miller of Terminal Park Y.

A strong supporting card has been arranged with Bob McAllister, one of McGill's most promising boxers, and winner by a T.K.O. in his last bout, trading blows with Jean Guy Dutrisac, Grenadier Grenadier Guards. Bill Tetley, one of the team's more promising performers will also see action. Ron Campbell of Terminal Park Y will attempt to match blows with him.

Ernie Laidlaw, a holdover from last season's boxing squad and certainly no newcomer to the boxing fraternity, will oppose Joe Plez of Grenadier Guards.

Doug McLeod, who made an excellent showing in the Interfaculty Meet is weighing in at 148½ and will be out to corner Francis Englehart of Terminal Park Y. Joe Kaplan, 125, coach Orr's newest protege, will face Ed Stanholt, 125. Agnes Boxing Club, in the curtain raiser. Judges, referee, and time-keeper, have not as yet been appointed, but will be left to the discretion of the A.A.U.

Irving Phillips, past coach of McGill's boxing team, will return to handle some of his boys from the corner. Heney, Orr, Laidlan and Tetley, will come under his guidance whilst Kaplan, McLeod and McAllister, will be handled by Bill Nichols, United States boxer from Syracuse and who has been aiding Orr in coaching the boys this year.

Card, in order of appearance: Joe Kaplan, vs. Ed Stanholt, 125. Ed. Kozlov, vs. Ron Campbell, 135. Doug McLeod, vs. Francis Englehart, 145. Ernie Laidlaw, vs. Joe Plez, 155. Bob McAllister, vs. Jean Guy Dutrisac, 158. John Heney, vs. George Miller, 137. Mill Orr, vs. Frank Bolla, 149.

ARTS & SCIENCE

TONY HAMPSON
Platform

I wish first of all to express my warmest thanks to those who nominated me. It is not only a very great honour, but it entails a very serious duty; and, if elected, I will strive always to regard my position in this light. I shall do my utmost at all times to represent the students of Arts and Science in the most conscientious, intelligent, and sincere manner possible, following on all occasions the principles which make democracy the great defender of individual freedom which it is today.

If it is to attain its true goal as a university, McGill must be possessor of a proud and unified campus spirit. For it is only by participation in the various clubs, organizations, and activities that the students come to know their university and to take a genuine interest in it and in our democratic way of life. I firmly believe that the S.E.C. can give a much-needed sense of direction, unity, and purpose to this latent spirit, and if elected I pledge myself to the furthering of this aim.

In conclusion may I have every one of you to exercise not only your legal right but your sacred duty to vote. The candidates, and their platforms, are before you on this page, make up your mind and vote for your own choice, whoever it may be. Ballots are the lifeblood of democracy.

TONY HAMPSON.

Pen Sketch of Tony Hampson.
As a man who is deeply interested in the campus and all its affairs, we believe Tony Hampson to be an excellent candidate for the position of Arts and Science Representative to the S.E.C. Since coming to McGill last year on a scholarship, he has participated in many undergraduate activities and has a thorough understanding of how the campus functions. We know him to be a very conscientious and willing worker who, we feel sure, will at all times be worthy of the students of Arts and Science. His activities during the past year have been:

1. Winter Carnival, Stadium Committee.
  2. Arts and Science Debating Society.
  3. McGill Liberal Club.
  4. Athletics Nights.

SUE BISHOP, Arts 3.
ALAN H. FINLEY, Sc. 4.

DOUGLAS JOHNSTONE
Platform

1. Establishment of a Book Co-operative under SEC management, to supply books and stationery to students at reduced prices.
2. Freedom of speech for any speaker invited by any recognized campus organization.
3. Full support for the McGill Winter Carnival and McGill Athletics Nights.
4. The calling of a conference with the McGill Placement Service in order to improve the facilities for part-time employment of students.
5. Discussion with the University authorities to determine whether the talents of students and staff members will be adequately utilized in the forthcoming $9,000,000 building program, e.g., it is my contention that the capabilities of the students and staff of the Faculty of Architecture should be employed in the design of the buildings and that the architectural fee allotted in the budget be turned over as a scholarship fund for that Faculty.
6. The establishment of a canteen in the basement of the Arts Building similar to those now in operation in the Engineering and Chemistry Buildings.

Pen Sketch

I would highly recommend Douglas Johnstone to the students of the Faculty of Arts and Science as their representative to the SEC. Doug is a mature man of 28 and a war veteran. He was educated at Lisgar Collegiate in Ottawa. Before the war he was very active in the Canadian Youth Congress and a member of its National Committee through the years 1938-39. At that time he also played a leading role in the affairs of the Ottawa Youth Council.

In 1941 Doug enlisted in the Royal Canadian Artillery and as a commissioned officer, saw action with the First Canada Division in Italy and Holland. He returned to Canada with the Division in 1945 and 1946, entered McGill as a student-veteran.

Doug is a 3rd year student in Honours Maths and Physics. At present he is Publicity Director of the McGill Student Labour Club. Consistent and efficient in whatever he undertakes, Doug combines the executive experience and organizing ability that is required of a successful representative. I feel that his program is an eminently practical and achievable one and I have every confidence in him to carry it through successfully.

GRANT ROBERTS.

BETTY SINCLAIR
Platform

There are certain principles which ought to guide the Representative in his administration of affairs and certain student activities which deserve special support.

- 1) The students of this university recently re-affirmed their faith in freedom of speech. I fervently believe that the decision which we as students made was the right one and I pledge myself to its continued promotion.
- 2) The representative from Arts and Science to the council is responsible to his faculty and to his conscience alone. His loyalty to the President of the Student Society is subject to this prior obligation.
- 3) Without casting any aspersions on any group, I feel that the same people play too great a role in campus activities. I should like to see the base widened so as to include many new people.
- 4) At McGill this past year, the N.F.C.U.S. has not been able to fulfill its best hopes, as it has in previous years, due to lack of support. I pledge myself to do all I can to provide our committee with the support and help it deserves.

Pen Sketch

Betty came to us from England three years ago and has been an important and respected figure on the campus ever since. She has joined wholeheartedly in campus activities of all sorts and her cheerful manner has become well known around the University. Her work on the "Daily" in student drama productions, Radio Workshop, the Philosophical Society and the M.R.T. is too well-known to need mention here. Her record speaks for itself.

She has kept up an enviable record in Honors History and English, winning the Knights of Pythias scholarship last year in spite of her numerous extra-curricular activities. Since coming to McGill she has made an amazing number of friends.

Because of her undoubted ability, honesty, straightforward manner, and sense of humor, we ask you to elect Betty Sinclair as your representative to the Students' Executive Council.

BARBARA WATSON
Platform

To register the importance in the students' minds that the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society needs good representation, and having had experience as Recording Secretary last year, I feel qualified in giving the students in Arts and Science this strong representation and I shall co-operate to the fullest extent with the executives at both McGill and Dawson.

In the capacity as a member in the Students Executive Council I would give my fullest attention to student activities over the whole campus.

In the office of Arts and Science Representative to the Student Executive Council I shall endeavour to carry out the following points to the utmost:

- a) Graduate and Undergraduate Relations.
Co-operation with the Graduate Society in their endeavours to promote closer relationships with graduates and undergraduates.
- b) Winter Carnival.
Full support of the Winter Carnival.
- c) Educational Interests.
Further the interests of the Educational Committee in Arts and Science as well as the Music and Arts Committee.

If elected, I assure the members of Arts and Science that I shall carry out my duties with an active interest.

BARBARA WATSON, B.A., III.

PEN SKETCH

Candidate for Arts and Science Representative to the Council.
Barbara has been at McGill for three years and has proven to all who have worked with her that she is not only capable of the position as Arts and Science Representative to the Council but has had invaluable experience with the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society.

In her freshmen year, she was Secretary for their Class Executive; the following summer she worked on the Freshmen Reception Committee in the fall of '47 she was elected Recording Secretary of the Undergraduate Society and was also appointed Social Convener. At the same time she acted as Publicity Manager for the M.W.S.A.A. and has been on the swimming team for three years. This year she is the Women's Sports Editor of the Daily and has worked hard on Freshmen Reception.

All these activities have given Barbara not only valuable experience but a chance to meet people from all different groups on the campus and to get to know the ideas and wishes of the student body, especially those in Arts and Science.

GENE CARTWRIGHT
Platform

On Wednesday, Dec. 8, an important student election will take place. As one of the candidates for the position of Representative to the S.E.C. for the Faculty of Arts and Science, the following is a platform of what my endeavors will be for this Faculty and the university.

Primarily I shall represent the faculty both here on the McGill campus and at Dawson with the best of my ability. My actions and decisions as the representative to the council will not be influenced by any one interested group, but by the interests of all the students in the Faculty of Arts and Science. I shall work for a unity of activities throughout the campus. Where there are many small and well-organized groups on the campus with similar aims and ideas, there should be a consolidation toward larger and more efficient groups capable of doing more for the students participating in them. I shall work for a unity of action within the students' council, bearing in mind, however, that through diverse ideas progress will be made. I will endeavor with all the means within my power to further the interests of the Faculty of Arts and Science that are consistent with and conducive to the well-being of the students of this faculty and our university.

GENE CARTWRIGHT.

Pen Sketch Gene Cartwright.
Gene, an American Navy veteran, is well-known on both the Montreal and Dawson campuses. While at Dawson, he served on the Social and Entertainment Committee, and was a member of the Rowing Club, competing in the eight car shell.

At McGill, he served as Publicity Director for the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, and as Chairman of the Father and Son Banquet. He also worked for the A.C.S. Ball and the I.S.S. drive.

Through this work Gene has gained a wide knowledge of campus organizations, and is well suited to represent the students of Arts and Science as a member of the S.E.C.

WOMEN'S UNION - Vice President

MONICA HURLBUT
Platform

The Vice-President of the Women's Union is responsible to both the Women's Union and the S.E.C.

The most important problem facing the newly elected Council will be the report of the committee at present studying the financial arrangements between the men's and women's unions. I shall, if elected, represent the Women's Union and its interests as fairly as possible while seeking to remedy any unfairness which may exist.

Due to the improved financial position of the S.E.C., I believe that when Dawson College's deficit has been made up, the additional two dollar levy imposed last year may be dispensed with.

I shall do everything possible to improve the inadequate facilities for women in all campus buildings and to have a snack bar installed near the Women's Union Lounge. I shall investigate the Employment Service with the intention of providing more part-time and summer jobs for women.

I sincerely wish to thank all those who nominated me and promise to stay sober on all but formal occasions.

MONICA HURLBUT, B.A. 3.

Pen Sketch

Monica came to McGill three years ago intending to go into medicine. Last year she did volunteer at the Royal Victoria Hospital, which convinced her of the great need for well-trained social workers. She now looks forward to an M.A. in Social Work from the University of Chicago.

This year Monica has reformed. The Social Service Committee is also back on its feet due to her efforts. She has placed volunteers workers at many welfare centres. Despite her single-mindedness of purpose, Mike has been a great help on the Art Committee. She knows this is an excellent opportunity to bring professional art to the students of the campus. She is also on the General Council of the M.O.C.

We know Mike will work in friendly cooperation with the Council in the interests of the women students.

First I would like to thank those who nominated me for the positions of representative from the Women's Union to the S.E.C. and Vice-President of Women's Union. Realizing it is hardly possible for any elected officer to perform great changes within her term of office, I believe that she can suggest plans for future use. If elected, these would be my suggested improvements:

- 1) Provision for more publicity for Women's Union events.
- 2) Arrangements for more facilities for women in the Union.

I would also support:

- 1) Present arrangements for R.V.C. Sunday night suppers for resident and non-resident students.
- 2) The Women's Union campaign for washroom cleanup.
- 3) The Women's Union Art Committee, suggesting exhibitions of work of Fine Arts students.
- 4) Greater publicity for the Women's Union Social Service Committee, suggesting possibilities of interesting work for students in this field.

My only promise is that, if elected, I will represent the women students to the S.E.C. to the best of my ability and will work hard in my related duties with N.F.C.U.S. I will also fulfill all obligations to the Women's Union with sincerity.

ISABEL GIBB.

Isabel will be remembered by the freshmen for her work this year on the Freshmen and Freshette Reception Committees. Last year she was one of the moving spirits in the Arts and Science Education Committee. In this position, Isabel helped organize the professors' teas, so popular in past years.

As a Red Wing, Isabel is a familiar figure at various campus functions. She also has given her strong vocal support to Choral Society.

Isabel has always entered wholeheartedly into any undertaking. She has never shirked any difficult job, but seems to enjoy turning the impossible into the possible.

First of all I wish to thank those who nominated me for the position of Women's Representative on the S.E.C. I consider it a great honour and realize, fully, the responsibility of such an office. If I am elected, I shall do my utmost to represent the women students of McGill University and uphold their rights on the governing council of the student body. Also I shall try to carry out the duties of the Vice-president of the Women's Union to the best of my ability.

It is the responsibility, and should be the desire of every woman student at McGill to vote in the coming S.E.C. election, so on Wednesday, make your choice of the girl you feel is best suited for the position, and vote!

What! Stevie for S.E.C. Rep? The first person we asked said, "Yes, she's had lots of experience. Her contribution to the McGill Fund was a big effort in organization." The next person approached was enthusiastic too. "Well, I don't know her very well, but she seems to have constructive ideas and I think she would really look after our interests." ... So it went ... but you've heard enough of other people's opinions, now for a bit ... now for a bit about Stevie herself.

Stevie came to us from Mount Allison University where she was active in many campus clubs. This year she was chosen as the representative from her faculty to the McGill Fund and next term will be working on the Red Feather Drive. Stevie is known for her ability to work hard and well and her faculty to speak up when something needs to be said. We can guarantee that with her election the women at McGill will be very capably represented on the Students Council.

5C Alchemists Inspect CIL Nitro Works

Last Monday afternoon nearly 50 third year members of the McGill Student Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers visited the Canadian Industries Limited explosives works and fertilizer division at Belec.

The plant manager welcomed the visitors on their arrival. Preceding the tour of the many departments a talk was given explaining the detailed processes in operation there. The McGill students were conducted through the various departments by plant supervisors and were able to learn first hand how the complicated chemical processes were carried out on a large scale for commercial use. The nitric acid plant, the nitroglycerine plant, and the superphosphate plant were among those examined in detail.

The trip was in line with the club's policy of trying to study the practical aspects of chemical engineering at the same time as the theoretical aspects.

I am fully aware of the responsibility that will be placed in me if you elect me as your representative to the S.E.C. on December 8th 1948.

I will take my position seriously. I will fight for those things that enhance the prestige and position of the engineers both at McGill and on the Dawson Campus.

Being aware, also, of my duties to the University, I will live up to these duties to the maximum of my ability.

The SEC has again this year a great deal of work to do to make life at our great University both enjoyable and profitable.

For faculty representatives to go to it burdened with wild election promises would hinder its efficiency.

Therefore in asking for your support at the polls tomorrow when voting for the Engineering representative to the SEC, which carries a heavy responsibility, I am making no such promises, but if elected by you would go with an engineers determination to see the job well and truly done and in particular urge that the engineers, proportionately an increasingly large faculty, have two votes on the council, foster increasingly friendly and useful relations with the graduates society, wholeheartedly (Letters continued on page 4.)

ERIC VALERE
Platform

The Engineering representative on the Students Executive Council has a double duty to perform. As an engineer he must be particularly alive to the problems of his faculty. As a voting member of the S.E.C. he must work for the best interests of the entire student body.

In view of these responsibilities it is my belief that the following points require immediate consideration and support:

Engineering

1. Full cooperation with the E.U. S. executive in order to continue the fine work of the past year.
2. Student-faculty discussion with a view to improving engineering courses.
3. Joint publicity by E.U.S. and the McGill Placement Service to increase opportunities for summer (Continued on Page 4)

ARCHITECTURE

JOSEPH CADLOFF

Platform

This is the first time that Architects will have direct representation in the S.E.C. It is my belief that such a representation will enable the campus to make the fullest and best use of the potential of the school of Architecture. I believe, too, that if the contribution which the school can make to campus life is developed sincerely and intelligently, on a Council level, then the school will become a focus, as it were, for cultural activity on the campus. This is not to say that we should seek to dominate all cultural activity at McGill. However, we can, through our own activities and through integral action on the Council radiate such an interest in these matters as to stimulate cohesive campus participation on the widest scale. For instance, the opportunity to hear men like Frank Lloyd Wright at McGill would interest not only Architectural students, but the entire campus — and such an opportunity could be made available much more easily and appropriately through the S.E.C. than through the A.U.S.

If elected to the Student's Executive Council, I shall strive at all times to develop this important integration of School of Architecture activity with campus activity. The McGill S.E.C. is also the local representative of the National Federation of Canadian University Students. I suggest that representation in this body can be of great advantage to Architectural students for two reasons, viz:

1) N.F.C.U.S. is attempting by approaching book manufacturers directly on a national scale, to obtain text-books at a discount, this would mean a substantial saving for students. I understand that they have had some success as representative for Architecture, I would make it my business to have included in this scheme, if possible, the standard Architectural reference texts and reading material which are usually so prohibitive in cost.

2) To date there has been little or no contact with other Architectural schools in Canada while we have had a tremendous curiosity concerning them. The N.F.C.U.S. offers a splendid opportunity for the exchange of information between schools across the country. As representative to the S.E.C. I would try to make available to the full this opportunity for such contact.

I believe, too, that the students in general and the Architecture students in particular can make a valid contribution to, and gain a tremendous amount of experience from, participation in the physical expansion the University is planning.

Signed,
JOSEPH CADLOFF.

MICHAEL ELLWOOD

Platform

It is extremely gratifying that representation has been granted directly to the School of Architecture for the first time in its history as a recognition of its increasing status on the campus. Of the various functions of the Students' Executive Council, one of the most important is the control and distribution of funds to the various student organizations. In this regard it would be my earnest endeavor to support a sound financial program for the ensuing year so that student money would be spent to develop college spirit and increase student participation.

A number of campus activities are directly or indirectly connected with Athletics and in my opinion it is essential to maintain the closest possible co-operation between the two governing bodies, the S.E.C. and the S.A.C. After Christmas I shall have concluded a term of office with the S.A.C. and I am confident that the experience gained would be of benefit to any representative on the S.E.C. Inasmuch as Dawson College is a self-contained unit with its own Students' Council which is now capable of handling its own affairs, I feel that close co-operation and co-ordination can be achieved by the S.E.C. without undue interference. It is hoped that the Dawson students will take a keen interest in the forthcoming elections.

Michael Ellwood.

Pen Sketch

Popular among the students and well known as a capable organizer, Mike has been a familiar figure on the campus for the past three years. Whilst maintaining a high standing in his course his competence and capability have been demonstrated in his numerous extra-curricular activities which make up the life of McGill.

After three years service in the Navy as a Lieut. he spent a year at Dawson College where he was Treasurer of the Student Veterans' Society in the summer of '46. He has also gained executive experience as co-chairman of the managerial committee of the Students' Athletic Council, as Assistant Manager of the Stadium, and as Manager and Captain of the McGill Fencing Team. Moreover he has devoted much of his time during the past year to such organizations as the Scarlet Key, Athletic Nights, the Junior Prom Ball, the Assault-at-Arms, and as Commodore of the McGill Sailing Club, and others.

His unquestioned qualities of leadership together with his likeable personality combine to make him the best possible choice for this responsible position.

Letters

Dear Sir,
After reading your editorial on the N.F.C.U.S. Conference I realized that the time was ripe for the establishment of proper facilities in the field of Radio. McGill has always been regarded as the leading university of Canada. I think it only just that we, as members of McGill, should make certain that a satisfactory educational system in radio is established.

It would be a gain for Canada if McGill had radio training included with other numerous courses. There is a countless number of potentially fine radio people drifting to the States, and being lost, due to the lack of proper training in this country. It should be surprising to McGill to learn that the University of Toronto has, and operates its own radio station. Radio plays an important function in the life of Canada; it must play an important part in university.

The courses in radio should be supported by the government. Their own radio station always seemed to be keen on aiding Canadian talent. Here is an excellent opportunity for them to show us that they really desire a great Canadian Radio.

ALLAN KNIGHT

Platform

Before going further, may I take this opportunity to thank all those who nominated me as Medicine's representative to the Students' Executive Council. I promise that, if elected, I shall do my utmost to fully present the views of the medical students towards affairs under the jurisdiction of the Student's Executive Council.

Having served for a year on the Council, I know that definite promises often included in a platform are futile. Therefore, I shall lay stress on the fact that experience in the function of that executive body and its scope is an invaluable aid in representing student opinions. With this experience and a keen interest in student affairs, I feel that I can conscientiously serve the best interests of students in the Faculty of Medicine.

Pen Sketch

Rarely does a candidate for executive office at McGill present such a wide and varied background of experience as Allan Knight.

Allan's energy and enthusiasm are apparently unbounded; the classic example of this is seen in the fact that two years ago, while in the throes of first year medicine, he managed to carry out the duties of Editor-in-Chief of the McGill Daily, and be a very active member of the Students' Executive Council. Despite all this, Allan still managed to maintain a superior standing in his academic work.

He includes among his activities of the past the Chairmanship of the Athletics Council, intramural hockey, baseball and other sports. He has served on the Freshman Reception Committee, the Dates Committee and the Scarlet Key. At present he is working with the Medical Journal and has an active interest in the CAMS Journal.

In short, his background, his unbiased attitude and his capacity for hard work make him a candidate to be proud of as Medical Representative to the S.E.C.

BRIAN LITTLE

Platform

All over the world you can hear about McGill and Medicine. This shows that in the minds of many people the names of McGill and the Medical Faculty are synonymous. Inside the University, many of our predecessors have taken the time to lead in both the executive and athletic field. We must maintain the reputation of Medicine both within and without the University; we can only do this with an outspoken and complete representation. As one of the oldest and most respected faculties of the University, we must have an active hand in all those matters affecting us and the University as a whole.

We must not be disinterested. We could have liaison between the S.E.C. representative and all the Class Presidents, thereby we would be informed of all that is going on, and could kick at the appropriate moment. This way we can remain uninterested but never ignorant.

This higher ratio of participation with outspoken representation can lead to but one thing, and that is the realization on the part of the medical faculty that McGill, as a whole, exists, and also perhaps what is more important that McGill students will realise the omnipresence of the Medical Faculty.

Pen Sketch

I am sure that most of the students in Medicine are fully aware of Brian's ability and qualifications to represent the Faculty of Medicine on the Students' Executive Council. However, for those of you who are not sure as yet, who to vote for, here is a bit of his personal history.

Brian has led an active campus life ever since coming to McGill in 1942 and is thus well acquainted with many phases of student activities.

In athletics — Senior Hockey, 1942-43; Senior Rugby, 1942-43, 1943-44; Intercollegiate All-Star team, 1946.

As a leader — Flying Officer, R.C.A.F.; Sergeant Major C.O.T.C., 1942; Captain McGill Rugby team, 1943; President of Medicine Class of 1950.

He has done a very capable job in whatever he has undertaken — as any of his classmates can vouch for, taking as an example his year as president of his class.

However, it is not only on these past activities that qualify Brian as a representative to the S.E.C., but also his enthusiasm for the job, his character, and his popularity.

gold medalist in his final year there.

He came to McGill in 1946, and has completed his first two years' work with high standing. This is important, since a poor student would not likely be able to meet the demands of time and energy imposed by the S.E.C. position.

This year Claude was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Civil Engineering Society, and in this capacity has shown his ability, willingness and keenness in carrying out undergraduate activities.

It should be said, too, that Claude is held in high personal regard by his classmates and friends.

PEN SKETCH

The manner in which the SEC handles the affairs of the McGill Students can make or break the Student year.

We are convinced that Colin McCallum has the character and qualities of leadership which make him the best man to represent the Engineers on an efficiently operating SEC.

His extra-curricular activities have been considerable for an engineering student and particularly noticeable has been his handling of the EUS Debating Society which has held some very successful debates this year.

His Mechanical engineering began at McGill in 1940-41. He then left for service with the RCN and RN returning to Dawson in 1946 for a year before coming to McGill.

5. Approach the Senate and Board of Governors for sufficient money, out of the campaign funds, to enlarge and improve the Union.

6. Aid to European students through I.S.S.

It is my intention, if elected, to work toward the above ends and to represent Student opinion to the best of my ability.

I wish to thank all those engineering students who have supported my nomination and ask them to continue that support and their fine campaign work until Election Day.

Eric Valere is candidate for engineering representative on the S.E.C. Just who is Eric Valere?

Eric comes from Trinidad where, after receiving his senior matriculation, he was radio operator on a U.S. engineering supply ship, travelling to the British, Dutch and French West Indies and parts of South America. He joined the Canadian Army in Montreal '42, and after instructing for a year at Kingston, served in England, Italy and Northwest Europe.

After 9 months at Khaki University he began his engineering course at Dawson (activities—intermural basketball, floor hockey, "Dawsons," Vets Society), and is now in Civil III at McGill (activities—Civil Engineering Society, West Indian Society, S.E.C.) At the last Students' Society meeting, he showed himself an able speaker by his fluent and lucid defence of "Free speech."

Student Directories Available Today

New Issue Sells At Less Than Cost Rush Is Expected

The 1948-49 edition of the McGill "Directory of Students" went on sale yesterday, at the Arts, Medical, and Engineering buildings, the Union, and at Dawson College.

Only 3,000 copies of the directory have been printed this year, and a big rush for them is expected. The price to students of this 216-page annual is 25c a copy. However, the actual total cost is slightly under 35c. That means that the S.E.C. will lose about $250 on the sale of the 3,000 copies.

The 1948-49 edition has larger type, and is easier to read. The phone number of every student is listed in the directory, as well as name, address, course, and telephone numbers and addresses of various departments of the University and student organizations. A five-page supplement is included.

The book is an invaluable as a guide to student addresses all year long. Its value is immense for contacting other students among the 8,000, especially for social activities and concerning student organizations.

The directory includes telephone numbers and addresses of the following items:

Athletics offices, COTC, Music Conservatorium, Dawson College, Diocesan College, Divinity Hall, Graduates' Society, MacDonald College, McGill Daily, McGill Union, Administrative Offices of the University, Faculties and Schools, General Hospital, Placement Service, Presbyterian College, Purvis Hall, Residences, R.V.C., R.V.H., Student Christian Movement, Student Health Service, and Students' Executive Council. Fraternities and Sororities are also listed.

Dr. M. Kaplan To Address Hillel Dec. 12

On Sunday, December 12, Hillel will commence its second lecture series of the current academic year. This is in keeping with the policy of bringing to the attention of the students prominent representatives of Jewish cultural and educational life.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Mordecai M. Kaplan, former professor of Homiletics at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York and recently appointed professor of Comparative Religions at that institution.

Dr. Kaplan was originator of the plan to expand the Jewish Theological Seminary into a University of Judaism. He is founder and leader of the Society for the Advancement of Judaism and also founder of the Reconstructionist movement.

As well as being an educator, Dr. Kaplan is the author of several books, the most recent of which is "The Future of the American Jew."

Dr. Kaplan will speak at 3:30 p.m. at Hillel House. His topic will be "The Role of Religion in Jewish Tradition."

War In China Topic At LPP Club Forum

"The War in China" will be the topic under discussion at this week's meeting of the Current Problems Forum, sponsored by the L.P.P. Club, Friday at 1 p.m. in the Union New Room. The guest speaker will be Gordon McCutcheon.

Mr. McCutcheon, who is a native of Montreal, was chairman of the local branch of the League for Peace and Democracy. One of the main activities of the League was a campaign for the boycott of war shipments to Japan and for aid for the Chinese people who were then struggling against Nippon.

Constantly an active participant in civil liberty organizations, he was secretary of the Montreal Council for Democratic Rights prior to joining the Canadian Army in which he served as a lieutenant.

Now Mr. McCutcheon is secretary of the newly formed committee whose principle aim is the repeal of the Padlock Law in Quebec.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES ...

Low murmurs and mutterings from that part of Dawson known as Lower Slobovia have at last been explained. A new symbol has arisen; "The Lower Slobovia Coat of Arms," permitting Lower Slobovia's inhabitants to proudly take their places in the ranks of the students of the world. It is hard to think up an adequate adjective to describe the crest, but a brief description is possible: A McGill crest sans Martlets, sans Crown, with one small book on each side, located on two of the three mountains. Central is a large, odiferous skunk, lovingly entangled around a large bottle prominently marked "XXX". Below appear the words "Lower Slobovia". Who knows what this crest may come to mean in the years to come? A guiding light in the turmoil of the world? Time alone can tell. Hail Slobovia! THE ROAD TO PERDITION? ...

Look back in the Daily files to last Friday and read the article on page 4, headed Research Dept. concerning how to make Ethyl Palpitate. The question is how did it ever get into McGill publication? Next thing that'll happen is that the Daily will be banned in the province of Quebec, and will share the place of honor with the Esquire Calendar.

DAWSON A LA MUD ...

The Dawson Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce that there have been very few cloudy days, so far. The rest of the time it is cloudy and rains. All mud wallowers are urged to visit Dawson for a pleasant vacation.

Don't forget the A & S shuffle Friday night. It is the big opportunity for Montreal students to visit Dawson; where men are men, and there are too few women. And don't forget to purchase your tickets for the big raffle. The drawing takes place Friday night at the dance, and the prize is well worth winning.

Questions of the week: Who or what is Cassidy's Cafe? And if they lose, just who will pay? Will Hillel be better? And better be debtor? A sure thing? Touche? Eh, Shea? OPEN LETTER TO DAWSON STUDENTS ...

You have recently elected a council to look after your affairs and to keep activities at Dawson going. This council was to operate under your Constitution, your guarantee of your rights, and the mainstay of all privileges, regulations, and budgets at Dawson. Yet, despite two weeks of beforehand publicity and large posters, informing you of a meeting to amend your constitution, less than 1/10 of the student body at Dawson turned out for that meeting. So What? That's for you to decide. The council and constitution are yours to do as you please with. Either support them, or renounce them, but whatever the choice is, the existing apathy must not continue.

Dawson A. & S. Sponsor Social Friday Night

The second dance of the Dawson social season will take place this Friday night when the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society will present its "Arts and Science Shuffles." Featured will be the music of the Westernaires, while during intermission time Don Cash will lead the crowd in a sing-song.

Buses for the young ladies will leave simultaneously from the P.T.C. Terminal and the McGill Gates at approximately seven p.m. So far sales of tickets to the girls have reached the two hundred mark which is the best pre-dance sales record yet. Most of the tickets are sold on the day of the dance. Bob Frazier, who is running the dance, says that on the basis of these returns over four hundred girls are expected.

Gil Weil, who is in charge of decorations, has evolved a set of plans that will make the old Gym shine in its new glory. Work on the decorations is scheduled to start at ten a.m. Friday morning. Bob Paulette, in charge of refreshments, has promised that the coffee will be drinkable, the food delicious, and the service much faster than it has been in the past.

McGill Daily Holds Gala Xmas Social

A Christmas Dance for McGill Daily staff will be held on Tuesday December 21 at 8 p.m. in the Union Grill Room. It is hoped that all "Daily" personnel will be able to attend.

There will be in addition to dancing to recorded music a Christmas tree shower and refreshments. This will be the opportunity for staffs from each night to meet others and exchange ideas.

Every one should try to bring a small gift costing about twenty-five cents. These presents will form the shower and will be placed in a large box for distribution.

Chorus Practice Fri. Meeting on Saturday

There will be a chorus rehearsal in the Union Ballroom, Friday night, Dec. 10th, at 8 p.m. The following Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11th, there will be another Chorus rehearsal, at 2 p.m., in the Ballroom.

Proceeding the Saturday afternoon rehearsal, at 1 p.m., there will be a meeting of the RATS. This promises to be a most entertaining meeting, as Mr. Jerry Shea will be the guest of honor of the RATS. Mr. Shea, has been in show business for many years, traveling all over the United States and Canada. "Forty Years in Show Business" will be Mr. Shea's topic, and should prove to be extremely interesting from a technical aspect and in a humorous vein.

Urgent Need For Voluntary Blood Donors

During the war countless thousands of lives were saved by voluntary blood donations; but during peace time the need, though latent, is just as urgent. Quebec is the last province to instigate a Blood Bank and thus can learn from the methods of others. In all other provinces, however, the Blood Bank has proved itself an absolute necessity.

To keep such a Bank supplied in Quebec the Red Cross needs a calling list of 31,200 regular donors. These would each be asked to give blood twice a year thus maintaining a weekly average of 1,200 donations. A check of every donor will be made at the clinic to ensure that all are fit for service and only qualified assistants will be used.

The aim of the scheme is that the Red Cross will be able to issue blood to all hospitals free of charge and on demand. In future, it is hoped, no patient will have to forfeit a blood transfusion because of its expense.

Registrations may be made right away at Henry Morgan and Co. Later registrations should be made at Red Cross Headquarters at 1626 St. Catherine St. West. Telephone WI 2194.

Hockey Dance Tonight In the Union Ballroom

The Red and White Society will hold a McGill-Toronto Hockey Dance tonight in the McGill Union ballroom. Johnny Holmes and his orchestra will not be able to appear as announced due to a sudden unexpected change in plans. However, dance music will be provided continuously by transcription from 10.30 p.m. until 1.30 a.m.

Immediately after the game, buses will leave from the rear of the Forum to take the fans to the Union. Admission to the dance will be 25 cents each, and tickets will be available at the door.

'The Beautiful People' In Moyse Hall Tonite

Tonight at 8.30 in Moyse Hall, the English Department will present "The Beautiful People" by William Saroyan as its first production of the year. This play is to be performed for one night only.

Rehearsals of "The Beautiful People" have been in progress for over a month under the direction of EDWARD DAVIS Mr. Elmer Hall. At the beginning of the week he handed the production over to Randy Phillips, the stage manager, who is now in complete charge of the production. "The Beautiful People" which is part of the work included in the Dramatic Production Courses at McGill is an all student production.

Trips And Trails MOC has lined up a wide program of ski-tours this winter for both beginners and more experienced skiers. As soon as there is enough snow, we will start to run a 10-mile trip every Sunday until Jan. 2, when we will split up into two groups for our tours. The more experienced skiers and keen types will head off on a longer trail ranging from 10 to 20 miles, while the people who are just out for a day's relaxation and sun will combine with the beginners on a short tour of 5-10 miles.

We have drawn up a tentative list of trails to be covered this winter which we suggest you should clip for handy reference. However this schedule is subject to change without much notice, so watch Thursday's Daily and the notice boards in the various buildings. Trail leaders wearing a red arm band will meet all MOC'ers on the train, getting on either at Montreal or at Shawbridge.

Trains times: C.P.R. (during Dec.) Windsor Sta. Sun. 8:00 a.m.; C.P.R. (after Jan. 1) Windsor Sta. Sun. 8:20 a.m.; C.N.R. To be announced.

Trails: Dec. 12—Piedmont to Shawbridge via MOC Trail and Flight's Delight Trail (Snow permitting) 7 miles.

Dec. 19—Ste. Adele to Shawbridge via Maple Leaf Trail. 10 miles.

Dec. 26—Shawbridge to either Lac Marois or Lac Echo and return. Short.

Jan. 2—Long: Mt. Rolland to Shawbridge via MOC Trail. 10 miles. Short: Piedmont to St. Sauveur to Shawbridge via Maple Leaf Trail. 6 miles.

Jan. 9—Long: Ste. Marguerite to St. Sauveur via Maribou Trail. 14 miles. Short: Val Morin to Sun Valley. 16 miles.

Jan. 16—Long: Ste. Agathe to Mont Rolland. 13 miles. Short: Ste. Marguerite to Piedmont via Maple Leaf. 7 miles.

Jan. 23—Long: Montfort to St.

One of last season's hockey trios has been broken up this season. Phil Henry (centre) and left winger Hackett (see page one) have remained on one line, whereas 'Calgary Jim' Atkinson has switched to the centre alley this winter. All three will be on the firing line against those Toronto Blue tonight.

Basketball Mustangs Open '48-49 Season

Intercollegiate basketball play is gaining momentum, as the days shorten these December days. Tonight, for instance, out at the country's Corn Flakes, the London Mustangs face the Albion College team in their season's home opener.

Two nights ago, the Toronto Blues team was hit with the impact of the falls themselves, as they played Niagara University. The New Yorkers rolled up a 75-42 score before the battle was over.

Neil McCarl of the University of Western Ontario reports the Mustangs ready to go in this first home exhibition game.

The Mustangs dropped a 53-34 decision to Wayne University in their season opener in Detroit on Saturday night. They matched the Tartars in play, but their shooting was way off form. However, with another week of practice, the Mustangs should make an improved showing against Albion.

Western opened their lengthy 1947-48 schedule against Albion, and carried off a 49-42 victory. The Mustangs are particularly anxious to win on Friday night so that they will have a .500 average before they start a three game road trip into Ohio the following week.

Coach Matras has lined up some tough opposition for his boys in their pre-Christmas jaunt. The trip opens in Dayton against University of Dayton, and then follows with Xavier University in Cincinnati, and Ohio Wesleyan College in Delaware. All three of these teams are highly regarded.

As usual, Bob Phibbs came out of the Wayne game as high scorer; but his nine point total was below his 1947-48 average that enabled him to set a new scoring record. Bob managed only one free throw in the first half, and then came back with four baskets in the second half.

The most pleasing feature of the Wayne game was the display of forward Don Scott. Although he scored only six points, Scott sparked the whole Western team with his fine play, and he appears to have clinched a starting assignment for himself.

Last year, Scott was the utility man on the team, playing either forward or guard, but seldom making the starting lineup. However, he proved his value by scoring 127 points, fifth highest total on the team.

Coach Matras used a 13 man squad against Wayne, including five freshmen. Harry Wade, who replaced Wearing in the pivot spot was the only one to figure in the scoring, and he collected five points.

Captain Paul Thomas, who had been a doubtful starter because of an injured wrist turned in his usual fine defensive game, and also found time to drop in seven points.

In the opening game on Friday night, Jack Fair's Western Colts will meet a tough opponent in the Tillsonburg Intermediate team. Last year, Tillsonburg battled all the way to the provincial finals before they were eliminated. The Colts were defeated 33-29 in Hamilton on Saturday at Toronto West End Y in their first start of the season. The game was part of the Hamilton and District Basketball Association Elimination tournament.

PC Government Defeated As Mock Parliament Meets

By BRIAN CAHILL

The combined voting strength of C.C.F., Liberal and Communist "M.P.s" in McGill University's annual mock parliament last night decisively defeated a Progressive Conservative "Government" on the issue of how to deal with Communism in Canada.

After more than two hours of frequently angry debate the Liberal and L.P.P. (Communist) members joined the official opposition C.C.F. to defeat by 215 to 62 a "Government" Bill that declared Communism "diametrically opposed to the principles of Christianity" and called for outlawing of Communist activities, investigation and exposure of known or suspected Communist and Communist organizations, and dismissal of known or suspected Communist civil servants.

The Bill presented by "Justice Minister" John Walsh was vigorously supported by the "Prime Minister," G. G. Turner; "External Affairs Minister" Zbigniew Brzezinski; "Finance Minister" Don McMaster and other Government speakers.

Main Government argument was that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" and that in the bill presented the Government was taking firm and necessary action to combat a declared and obvious menace to Canadian democracy.

The C.C.F. opposition, led by Peter Scott, held that the bill was in itself a menace to democracy in that it violated "fundamental democratic principles."

In effect, the C.C.F. claimed, the bill provided that a person could be punished for an offense which it was presumed he would commit under certain circumstances at some future date.

C.C.F. member Sam Friedman moved an amendment to the bill "reaffirming the fundamental right of all citizens to their own political beliefs" and calling for "an adequate bill of rights for all Canadian citizens."

He said: "The best way to save democracy is to practice democracy and this Government bill is not democratic in spirit or content."

The Liberals, with leader Des Thomas doing most of the speaking, joined the C.C.F. in calling for defeat of the Government bill, but called also for the defeat of the C.C.F. amendment which was termed "ineffectual and silly."

The Liberals held that present laws, vigorously enforced, were adequate to protect Canada against subversive forces and that the Government's bill would do more harm than good by driving the Communists underground.

The tiny knot of L.P.P. members, sparked by Lionel Albert, read long extracts from the Communist manifesto and the platform of the L.P.P. party and amid laughter and frequent interruptions invoked the spirits of William Lyon Mackenzie and Louis Joseph Papineau to bear witness to the purity of their motives and the justice of their cause.

In the thrush and parry of debate the Government forces were notably lacking in fluency of speech and readiness of repartee. From the press and visitors gallery it was remarked more than once that the further left a member's politics were the better orator he seemed to be.

The C.C.F. and the Communists were sharp, controlled and audible; the Liberals were fair speakers and the Government lost many a good debating point by being unable to make their points clearly and with force.

When voting time came the C.C.F. amendment was defeated 144 to 84. On the vote on the bill itself the Government went down to overwhelming defeat.

Progressive Conservative Commentary

By C. J. BOWIE-REED.

It was obvious from the beginning that the other parties were consistently misinterpreting the bill. They attempted to maintain that the bill would outlaw the Labor Progressive Party, whereas in actuality this was neither the content nor the intent of the legislation.

The entire basis of the argument of both the C.C.F. and Liberal parties was based on this misinterpretation, with the result that their arguments were weak and mainly irrelevant, while those of the L.P.P. were entirely irrelevant.

It was evident from the attitude taken by the Liberal and C.C.F. parties tonight that they are definitely opposed to any positive action being taken to expose and defeat the Communist attempt to undermine our existing democratic institutions.

John Walsh, Minister of Justice, in introducing the resolution for the government, defined Communists as "All those working for the violent overthrow of the constitution for the purpose of establishing a dictatorship of the proletariat."

Basing his interpretation of the bill on this definition, he went on to outline the reasons of the government for introducing the resolution and the steps that would be necessary to implement it.

Zbigniew Brzezinski, Minister of External Affairs, in replying to the C.C.F., pointed out the irrelevance of most of the Socialist arguments and showed the results of the doctrine of Socialism in Europe.

European countries now behind the Iron Curtain, "I have had some experience with the Socialists in Eastern Europe—at one time they also just wanted to sit and talk."

Dentistry

Chet Braaten

Platform
During the past few years the Faculty of Dentistry has been accused of not earning its representation on the S.E.C. It has been said this faculty was small, unenthusiastic, and consequently ineffectual regarding student activities on the campus.

We have fought and regained our representation, and if I should be elected as Dentistry's representative, I would do my utmost to prove to the Council and the students at large, that the Dental Faculty is capable and willing to play an indispensable role in campus affairs. I feel this can be accomplished by keeping the Dental Undergraduate Society and S.E.C. in such close contact as to greatly contribute to the unification of McGill's spirit. I would advocate, at the Dental Undergraduate Meetings, reports

I wish to thank those who nominated me as candidate for representative to the S.E.C. for the Faculty of Dentistry.

I realize the importance of this position, particularly in view of recent criticism that Dentistry has not been shouldering its share of campus responsibilities.

I pledge myself to co-operate to the fullest extent with the S.E.C. and also will attempt to secure a better understanding in the aforementioned body of the problems confronting the Dental Faculty.

The Official Opposition...

By STAN GROSSMAN.

Member CCF

The C.C.F. amendment was defeated last night by a vote of 144-84. This amendment reaffirmed the right of all Canadian citizens to their own political beliefs. The method insuring these freedoms is a bill of rights which would legislate the guarantee of these rights.

Bills Introduce Fascism
The House proved that it stood for democratic principles when it defeated the Government bill. It is such bills that tend to introduce fascism into a country. If such a bill would be adopted by the Government, the Communists would be the first victims of being an illegal political party. But it would not stop at that point. The next to be affected will be the social democrats, then the Liberals of right-winged views, and finally the sincere Conservatives would be declared as Communists. That is what happened in Nazi Germany.

Rights Guaranteed
The Liberals, led by Des. Thomas, refused to accept the C.C.F. amendment on the grounds that it is "idealistic". Is it idealistic to ask for a bill of rights? The C.C.F. does not think so. There was a time in British history when any person could be imprisoned without trial by jury.

By public protest the British drew up the Bill of Rights and the Habeas Corpus Act to insure the inhabitants of Britain that their personal freedom is guaranteed.

With a proper Bill of Rights in the Canadian Constitution, these personal freedoms can be guaranteed, regardless which political party is in power.

The Progressive Conservative Government stated that it could not support the C.C.F. amendment on the bases that it was contrary to their ideas of dealing with the defending of democracy.

Contrary to their plans means, that it is contrary to their plans to do away with the factors that oppose their political ideals. Peter Scott, doing the summation for the opposition, mentioned how a Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament, John Diefenbaker, campaigned for a bill of rights after the spy trials, and that was defeated when he was campaigning for the leadership of his party.

Unpopular P. C. Bill
The C.C.F. and many members of other parties believe that should such a bill ever go through the Parliament at Ottawa, their would be a general smear across the Dominion, such as that that has and still is going on in the United States. One of the reasons that President Truman scored an upset victory in the last presidential election was that the Americans were getting "fed up" with the Un-American Activities hearings which Mr. Truman had so often denounced.

C.C.F. and Democracy
C.C.F. since its beginning has fought for a clean pure democratic Canada. It is still doing so, and will continue to strive for this purpose. We must remember that it was the C.C.F. who brought in the largest petition into the Canadian Parliament. This petition, containing over five hundred thousand signatures, protested the Quebec Government's attitude in persecuting the Witnesses of Jehovah.

APT. FOR RENT.
Three large unfurnished rooms for immediate occupancy by veteran student and wife. Only prospective tenants will exhibit enthusiasm for and considerable ingenuity in interior decorating need apply to: G. D. Turnbull, Comm. 4, or T. D. Carroll, 4525 St. Catherine St. W.

Improvement Needed
The C.C.F. if it is to live up to its own grandiloquent propaganda as the coming party in Canada, must first overcome this lack of realism in its approach to current problems. The same drivelling idiosyncrasy was even more pronounced at the Parliament before this in their opposition to the Liberal plan for Atlantic security. At other times, it would seem to be a mere attempt at a "Holler than Thou" stand. At all times, it is a sign of good days ahead for the Federal Liberty Party.

The first thing that impressed me was the complete moral bankruptcy of the Progressive Conservatives. Here they were, in all seriousness, urging a gathering of intelligent people to vote for a bill that was alien in conception and impossible of implementation. They could adduce almost no intelligent arguments for the bill, and when cornered in his summing up, their leader claimed that the bill was not designed to outlaw the L.P.P. party! It would be informing to discover just what it was aimed against if not against that party. It seems strange that a group which claims the mantle of MacDonald could propose nothing but vague phrases... and in the case of one of their speakers, some obscene and unfounded allegations on the sexual morality of the L.P.P.

CCF Impractical
The CCF, led by Peter Scott, as usual spoke well, and with more moderation than the government or the Communist group. But, again, they seemed to be devoid of practicality in their amendment to the main bill. First they proposed an amendment that entirely defeated the bill... and then proceeded to urge all to vote against the government.
